

Dear ACS friends

This is stunning (as in beautiful) video. It is called "Nightvision" by director Luke Shepard.

Description: Nightvision is a celebration of the brilliance and diversity of architecture found across Europe. Over the course of three months he journeyed with a friend through 36 cities in 21 countries with the ambition of capturing some of the greatest European structures in a new and unique way. Comprised of thousands of carefully taken photographs, strung together and stabilized in post-production, Nightvision aims to inspire appreciation for these man-made landmarks.
